BOURKE COCKRAN BELIEVES ANTI-IMPERIALISM IS THE KEYNOTE FOR AN HARMONIOUS DEMOCRACY.

SPECIAL BY CABLE.

London, Aug. 31.—Bourke Cockran will sail for New York on the White Star Line steamship Teutonic on September 11. In commenting to-day upon the lack of mention of imperialism in the platform of the Pennsylvania Democrats, he said:

"I presume the omission is due entirely to local conditions. To my mind anti-imperialism is the only issue on which the Democratic party can be and is a united party. The lack of such united opposition in England is strikingly felt. The people here support the war purely as a Government measure, without much thought of its merits. England is essentially a just nation. Her system of administration of justice at home is the finest in the world, but often it does not permeate her foreign policy."

"What do I think of Lord Kitchener's proclamation? It is humorous in the extreme and not so much a piece of barbarity as of eccentricity. It will not attract a single Boer, however. The whole system of holding Boer women and children as hostages, for such they are, notwithstanding Government denials, is an instance of inhumanity almost unparalleled in the history of the world."

LAFAYETTE PARK SUICIDE IDENTIFIED.

Charles Knobbe Lost All of His Savings in Mullaphy Bank and Was Deeply in Debt.

Charles Knobbe is the name of the old man who committed suicide in Lafayette Park Friday night by shooting himself through the mouth.

The body was identified at the morgue last night by John M. Schenck, Henry Bremer and John Morris, who live at No. 211 North Ninth street.

Knobbe was 65 years old. For nearly twenty years he boarded with Mrs. Christina Gross at No. 211 North Ninth street.

CHARLES KNOBBE, Lafayette Park suicide, identified by John Schenck.

For many years the old man followed his trade as a carpenter and his last four years did no work. The men who identified the body could assign no cause for the old man's act. They say he was peculiar and had little to say to any one. At times, they say, he appeared despondent because of money he lost in the Mullaphy Bank failure, but never made any threats or hints of suicide. About $15,000 was lost in the bank failure. Several months after the bank failure, Knobbe lost his position and had some trouble with his wife.

The owner of the mules, James Montaine, a farmer, living near East St. Louis, Ill., said his 15-year-old son, who was driving the wagon to the street and narrowly escaped being run over by the car.

SCHWAB MAY TALK STRIKE SETTLEMENT.

Steel Corporation President Ready to Adjust Differences if Men Return to Work.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 31.—The steel strikers are claiming to-night the biggest victory since the fight began in the closing down of the open-hearth department of the Duquesne Steel Works. The Amalgamated people claim that the open-hearth men have agreed to return to work.

The Carnegie steel people make light of the matter and say the closing-down of the open-hearth department to-day was merely the usual Saturday afternoon close and maintenance of the plant will be on hand for work Sunday evening as heretofore and that no stoppage will result.

It is learned that during the extended work conversation, Mr. Schwab told Mr. Burns that he would not consent to meet any representatives of the Amalgamated Association until all the mills of the United States Steel Corporation, and not only the order of President T. J. Shaffer, are put in operation again by the former employees of the corporation returning to their work.

He told Mr. Burns it is said, that the striking members of the Amalgamated Association are no longer employees of the United States Steel Corporation. Hence there is no reason why he should meet any representative of the association. But if they voluntarily re-enter the employ of the corporation, it is said, Mr. Schwab will be glad to listen to any grievance they may desire to lay before him with reference to their work and wage.

BALDWIN IN THE FAR NORTH.

Returning Vessel Reports Having Seen the Explorer.

SPECIAL BY CABLE.

Tromsø, Aug. 31.—The Frithof returned from Franz Josefland yesterday. She met with continual storms for the first three weeks, and found weak ice. On August 11 she fell in with the America at Cape Ophelien, and they sailed together through the Alexander Canal, east by northeast. The chart wrongly indicates Cape Triest, they sailed round an island toward Markham Sound, where they found firm ice.

They returned to the island at the south end, which they baptized Alger Island. There they landed six dogs, with some dogs and ponies and built a house, which was called Ziegler's camp. This is situated in latitude 80 degrees 24 minutes north and longitude 15 degrees 25 minutes east.

Before making the America the Frithof explored the British canal. She went eastward past Wilkesland to Cape Jofor. Here a large tract of land was seen to the northeast of the island.

The weather was glorious with open water to the northeast as far as the eye could reach, the observer being in the open sea. The Frithof began her return journey on August 23 and passed Cape Flora on August 24. Here they found Captain Andre's caches in the snow.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

St. Louis, Aug. 31.—The Green Mountain Distillery, one of the largest and wealthiest independent distilleries in the world, enters the field in competition with the American Whiskey Trust.

Of all the combinations of capital which exist, or try to control, the necessities of existence and to crush out legitimate competition, there is none so far-reaching in its scope, so aggressive in its methods, so ruthless in its exhibitions of greed and so thoroughly unscrupulous and unscrupulous in its purpose, to the detriment of the public, as the Whiskey Trust.

Since the classic blizzard first raised its head in the early seventies, it is estimated that at least a hundred thousand people have been thrown out of their homes and have been thrown out of their homes and have been thrown out of their homes.

It is gratifying to record that the Green Mountain Distillery, which, some time ago, adopted the plan of direct to the consumer, has in this way been able to successfully evade the strictures and hardships which have been heaped upon it in an unequal fight against the machinations of the Trust.

Never before has an independent concern been so successful in outwitting the whiskey magnates and the immense business built up by the Green Mountain folks, as they do, thousands of packages daily all over the country, has proven a threat to the side of the Trust, and has proven a threat to the side of the Trust.
